Built around the themes of migration and diversity, we'll use our minds, bodies, and creative spirits to experience language and culture holistically and "act" or "be" Italian together. In this dynamic immersion environment, we will study a series of texts and traditions, experiment with comedy and tragedy, and develop scripts and supporting materials for a series of short performances. Moreover, we will sharpen analytical skills, explore aesthetic dispositions, refine pronunciation and diction, and improve communicative competence all around.

Prereq: Any 300-level course in Italian above M301 or permission of instructor.
